Final Friday

October 28th at 7:30pm

This Final Friday open mic will be hosted by The Sinan Bakir Trio. Sinan will be performing some original songs from his album On My Way as well as some jazz standards.

As always, after the main performance you may participate as either a listener or performer. Make sure to enjoy some of the free snacks and beverages that will be provided,

This month we will begin the evening with a community drum circle hosted by Christine Sipes.

Community DRUM CIRCLE

Do you like drums? Do you play or would you like to learn how to play? Do you want to reduce stress, relax and have fun at the same time?

Come to a community drum circle.

What is a community drum circle? Simply put - people playing drums together in a circle for just plain old fashion fun.

Please RSVP at the office if you will need a drum provided for you, as instrument availability is limited.

Music Lessons

Here at The Music Score it is never too late to sign up for music lessons! We still have time slots available for all of our amazing teachers so call or stop by the office today for more information or to sign up.

Reminder:

With the holiday season coming up it's important to make note of which days lessons are not being given. Our brochure lists all the days that lessons will not be taking place so be sure to review it and mark the days on your calendar.

We will do our best to remind you of upcoming holidays but it is your responsibility to make it to your lessons.

The holiday season is right around the corner!

Remember, beginning music students need extra time to practice their holiday music. Plan ahead and pick up your holiday sheet music today.

While you're in the music shop take a look around for gifts. We carry lots of items that are sure to be the perfect gifts for music lovers. Don't see what you're looking for? Ask! We can always special order an item at no additional cost to you. Order early to ensure you get it in time.

The Music Score holiday party & Final Friday will be on Friday, December 16th. Please RSVP by December 9th. Free, catered event with pianist John Lomartra performing.
